NEED A LOGO REPAIRED? NEED FINAL ART RENDERED?

Why should you pay a design firm (including ours) to create your logo from scratch, when it's already designed and you just need someone who knows what they're doing to create the correct file formats?

At The Logo Factory you can select our Logo Repair service, where our top-shelf designers use their technical skills to copy your logo into a complete range of professionally formatted images ready to use in their correct formats. Without having to pay for the creative time required in our custom logo design packages. We offer three levels of service based on the kind of material you can supply us - be it digital or printed (sketches and/or doodles), how fast you need your logo repaired, and the variety of final file formats you require. All our Logo Repair packages will give you the print and web ready formats that you need to utilize your newly repaired logo on the widest range of media.
